

Summarization of the whole HCC topic

The HCC begins with the discussion on the effect of drugs on Colombia, there are two sides in the committee it's between the Pro drug which competes with the Anti-drugs community, Let's call the Pro drug PD while the Anti-Drug AD. The PD said that the Colombian transport of drugs in Colombia are one of the most important source of income and these income could be used to make the country much more better. The AD disagree with this saying the drugs damage the mind and cause a tremendous amount of death each years and that marks the end of session 1.

In brake time students are given a website link where the opposing sides are able to give problems to each other only if the chairman accept these problems, assassination of other students are possible but only two happened so far due to the fact that assassinations are rarely accepted by the chairman. Solutions are also required to be specific and logical. Some of the news that this delegate found to be interesting are:

1. The US sending their delta team without the Colombian government permission, resulting in the team getting caught by the Colombian military and disrupting trust between the 2 countries
2. The food supply truck that is actually transporting 1ton cocaine in their tire
3. Their citizens rioting against the election problems
4. Kidnapping one of the candidates wife so that they can give up their position

Session 2 is where problems start to happens, such as the problem of the candidates of the president where no one is elected to the point on where nearly the whole Columbian citizens start rioting and threatening the Committee this riots are played by one of the chairman themselves. Finally after a lot of times are wasted on just electing a president (due to the fact that the PD doesn't want to have a government because it can create problems to their business) Betancur was finally elected as president. In the end the Medellin cartel gave up on the election and decided to regain trusts of the citizens by building hospitals, schools and other improvement around the city. While the AD committee which plays as the US and Colombia government regained each other's trust and decided to band up and destroy the cartels once and for all.
